JAP TROOPS REPORTED TO BE MOVING FROM CENTRAL CHINA TO SHORES OF YELLOW SEA

Invasion-jittery Commanders Said To Be Shifting Forces From Hunan Province To Meet American Amphibious Assault

HUNDRED THOUSAND TRANSFERRED IN MONTH

By LEONARD MILLMAN
Associated Press War Editor

Invasion-jittery Japanese commanders were reported today to be pulling thousands of troops out of central China to guard the shores of the Yellow Sea against a possible American landing.

The report from a Chinese army spokesman coincided with a meeting of the Japanese cabinet to consider "problems of the day." These problems included the whereabouts of the rampaging U. S. Third Fleet, Australian capture of a fourth Borneo oil field, record air assaults on Japan and the China coast, and general Chinese gains in the south.

Maj. Gen. Kuo Chih said that in the last month 100,000 Nipponese troops have been shifted from Central China's Hunan province to Shantung province to meet American amphibious assaults. Others were transferred to the coast from North China.

Shantung, 300 miles north of Shanghai, is the third area where Tokyo has predicted a U. S. invasion. It is the only one still securely in Japanese hands.

Chinese reported today they now control 50 miles of the south China coast 125 miles southwest of Canton. The area is about 1,000 miles southwest of Shantung province and 600 miles from the Philippines where Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten conferred last week to coordinate operations of their Pacific and southeast Asia commands.

The Japanese previously abandoned about 250 miles of the east China coast below Shanghai, now being hit in force by Okinawa-based American bombers. Their withdrawal was in the general direction of Shantung.

Shantung is across the Yellow Sea from Korea and slightly more than 500 miles west of Japan. It would afford one of the most direct approaches to the Nipponese mainland arsenal in Manchuria, where major continental battles are expected to be fought.

Washington dispatches indicated there was no probability of an imminent invasion. The First Army Division being redeployed from Europe is not expected to reach the Pacific until after December 1. Premier T. V. Soong predicted today the war will end by early that time. But American commanders, who are planning on a conquest of North China and Manchuria, figure it will last until late next year.

Labor disputes in five industries were ended today, enabling more than 15,000 employees to go back to their jobs, but work stoppages across the nation kept an additional 50,000 idle.

As old controversies were settled, at least temporarily, new ones broke out to show only little gains in the total number of workers affected by the stoppages during the last 24 hours.

Coincident with these Tuesday raids, others of MacArthur's Okinawa-based far east air forces heavily hit Kagoshima on the main Japanese southern island of Kyushu, blocking three important railway tunnels and damaging a fourth. Kagoshima, a city of 180,000, site of a munitions works and a submarine shipyards, was thus cut off from rail communications with rest of Japan.

Kagoshima's docks also were hit along with oil storage facilities.

Another force of MacArthur's tactical Thunderbolts put twelve 500-pound bombs into a 10,000-ton Japanese freighter and left it sinking halfway between Okinawa and Kyushu.

Meanwhile, navy search Privatizers and Liberators had their best single day against Japanese shipping between the Asiatic mainland and the Japanese islands on Wednesday, sinking 11 and damaging five small coastal cargo ships. Fleet air wings one and 18 made the strikes off the Korean east coast and opposite Honshu.

New trouble along the labor front was reported from Cleveland and St. Louis. In the former city a walkout of open heart furnace workers at the Republic Steel Corp. plant forced shutdown of three furnaces and was expected to close the remaining six.

In St. Louis, a strike of 1,500 employees of three packing plants threatened to cut sharply into the already reduced weekend eat supplies.

They found only two Japanese defending the great field, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today. The field formerly produced 7,000,000 barrels of ready-to-use oil a year.

The Sambodja field is one of the three major pools in eastern Borneo and Dartmouth, just across the harbor near the depot, streamed back to their homes last night as the danger waned.

Fire-fighting units late yesterday gained control of the mighty blaze which had roared through the depot, touching off four terrific blasts and a rumbling series of minor explosions and spraying the Bedford basin area with shells and debris. Firefighters had managed to keep the flames from the main munitions magazine, where 50,000 depth charges were stored.

Airmail Pickup Expansion Seen

Harrisburg, July 20.—(AP)—Governor Martin urged Pennsylvanians today to "join in appropriate ceremonies" in observance of the Army Air Forces' 28th anniversary on August 1.

He noted that some of the air force's largest installations are located in Pennsylvania and said in a statement:

"The glorious record of this branch of our armed services and the heroic and gallant needs of its members, many of whom are sons and daughters of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania have written an indelible page in the history of American valor."

STEELWORKERS RETURN

Pittsburgh, July 20.—(AP)—Seventy-two steel workers who shut down the Homestead 100-inch mill of Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. when they walked out Tuesday, protesting dismissal of two co-workers, agreed to return to their jobs today. Their return would put 550 other workers, made idle by the stoppage, back at work.

Ickes Predicts Worst Fuel Shortage of War Next Winter

Washington, July 20.—(AP)—Secretary of the Interior Ickes today announced that if possible, about 6,000,000 tons of American coal will be shipped to Europe for civilian use, between now and January 1.

He said he wanted the American people "to know that this decision involves the risk that we may have to suffer a shortage of coal in this country next winter more acute than heretofore predicted," and that coal allotments for home consumption may have to be reduced."

Earlier, he had predicted "the worst fuel shortage of the war" for this country.

As solid fuels administrator, Ickes asked the fuel conservation directors of 25 states to launch local drives immediately to place homes and other buildings in condition to keep people warm on short fuel quotas next winter.

The program is designed to make every home, shop and building "heat-tight" by insulation, storm doors and windows, weatherstripping, caulking cracks and by other means. Ickes said. He added in a statement that furnaces and other heating equipment should be put in efficient condition to save fuel.

"Millions of Americans in the eastern half of the nation will have to keep warm on 80 per cent of the coal and coke normally burned while fuel oil users cannot expect more than three gallons for every four normally consumed," Ickes said.

The solid fuels administration explained that the reductions in consumption Ickes said would be necessary represent a continuance of allotments already in effect. Fuel oil users have been limited to 75 per cent of their normal consumption and last April the SFA announced that coal and coke users would be limited to 80 per cent of their normal consumption henceforth.

Arrangements have been made, ticks added, for banks to extend FHA loans on easy payment terms for fuel conservation improvements when financial assistance is needed.

States in which fuel conservation directors were sent letters urging local "prepare for winter" drives include New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

FIVE CITIES ARE FIRED BY SUPERFORTS

More Than 600 Bombers Set Conflagrations With 4,000 Tons of Incendiary Shells

WAR'S HEAVIEST RAIDS

By AL DOPKIN
Guam, July 20.—(AP)—More than 600 Superfortresses in record strength set conflagrations in five Japanese industrial centers with 4,000 tons of incendiary bombs today as Okinawa-based tactical air forces made the war's heaviest rain on Shanghai and Thunderbolt fighter bombers sealed off rail transport to the Japanese city of Kagoshima.

The Superfortresses set Fukui, Hitachi, Choshi and Okazaki afame and struck the Nippon oil refinery at Nagasaki a heavy blow in raids before dawn.

The weather forced instrument bombing at all targets except Fukui, but all results were declared to be good to excellent. Two B-29s were lost; five crewmen from one ship were rescued.

The Japanese Domei agency admitted some damage from the raids.

In a followup on the B-29 raid, about 100 Mustang fighter planes attacked targets in central Honshu about noon, today, radio Tokyo said. They strafed the Okaizaki and Toyohashi areas and made passes at Nagoya.

Meanwhile Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced from Manila that more than 300 tactical medium, heavy and attack bombers with fighter escort all from Okinawa, crossed the East China Sea and hurled more than 290 tons of bombs on Kiangwan airfield just north of Shanghai.

Kiangwan, the greatest enemy air base in China, had four paved runways for bombers, two fighter strips and numerous buildings. Heavy cloud cover prevented accurate observation of results. Thunderbolts which escorted the bombers found and hit the Tinghai airfield in Chu Shan island opposite Shanghai in low-level attacks.

The case was presented to a Warren county Grand Jury several weeks ago and a true bill was returned on Tuesday of that session of court. William I. Glassman, attorney for Mr. Schuler, moved that the indictment be squashed due to a multiplicity of charges. Legal arguments were heard by Judge Allison Wade, presiding, on Tuesday and on Wednesday Judge Wade handed down an opinion quashing the indictment. The Court was of the opinion that it would be a bad precedent to indict a person for one crime or another or another. Canning Center Opened With Many Women In Attendance

Warren county's community canning center had its formal opening in the Bayler Building, Pennsylvania Avenue, west, on Thursday evening, with a fine attendance of interested folks from many sections of this county and visitors from Elk and Jefferson counties.

P. C. Ostergard, chairman of the committee for project, welcomed those present and extended a cordial invitation to all interested to use the facilities of the center. He also expressed special appreciation to the following committee members:

H. J. Harvey, of the Penn Furnace and Iron Company, who donated the metal containers for the kitchen and burners for retorts; Sam Rasmussen, who gave the pipes for plumbing and gas and his time for their installation; Clair Beyer, contractor, for tables and carpentry work.

Mr. Ostergard has worked untiringly in coordinating efforts of all workers and himself deserves much credit. Through W. T. Corbett, maintenance and operating expenses have been made possible, so that there will be no charge or expense to patrons for use of the center.

Alverda Fagley, home economics supervisor, has been in charge of planning for equipment and its installation, as well as for instruction to this point, and expressed her gratitude.

Mrs. Freda Witman, of Elk County, gave a demonstration of canning peas and peaches, assisted by Edna Thompson, who will be the center's instructor.

In closing the evening's program, Miss Fagley again expressed her appreciation to the committee and to all the people of Warren county for their cooperation and support of this project.

The center will open for actual work on Monday. Representatives are at the center today and appointments for use of the apparatus can be made any time during the day. All appointments must be made by telephone, the number is 1755.

Warren and vicinity folk should realize that the use of the center is absolutely free, that instruction will be freely given and the matter of making the most of the center is now up to the women of the community.

Corbett Urges Housewives To Prepare For Scrap Paper Drive

Chairman Wylie T. Corbett, chairman of the Warren County Salvage Committee is urging that over the weekend the housewives get all possible paper scrap ready for the pick-up on Wednesday July 25, which will be county wide. Appeals have been received by the salvage committee from the National Headquarters pointing out that the need of waste paper was never greater.

Shipments of foods, ammunition, plasma, etc., is done in paper containers and due to the climatic conditions in the Pacific area the packing must be done with care. The warm, moist air of the Pacific is a hazard in the care of all supplies and paper has been found to make an admirable foil to the onslaughts of the climate.

Fuel Oil Users Must Get Busy With Their Tanks

The Office of Price Administration has been blamed for almost everything—except the weather. And with today's announcement, some may seek to burden them with that.

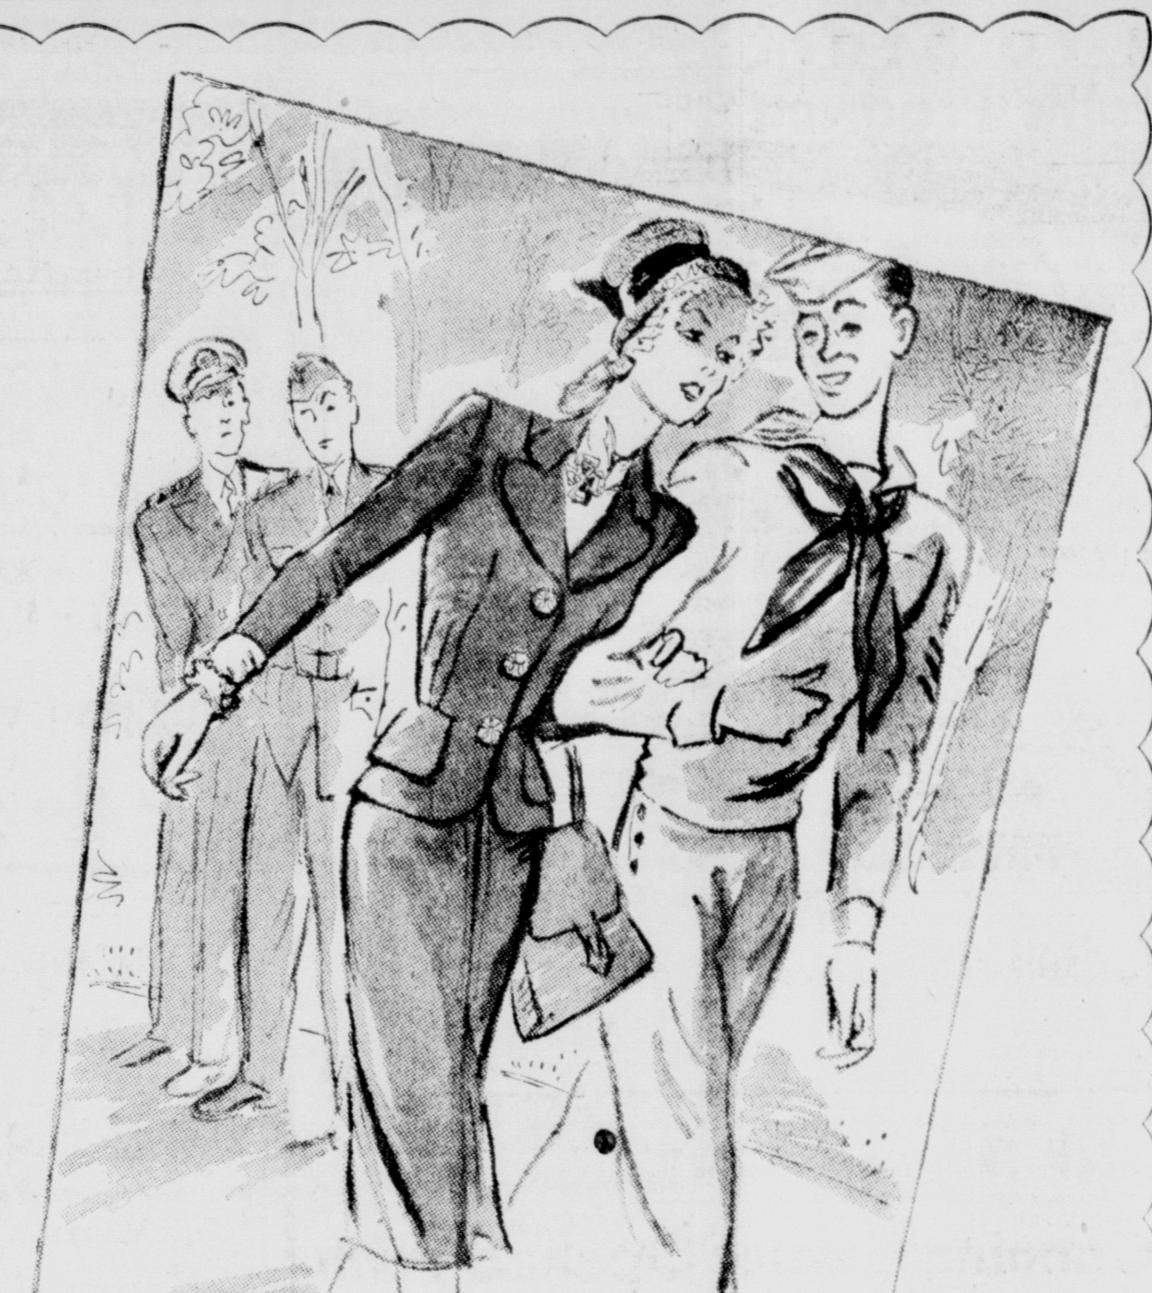

But the fact remains that it won't be too long until the blasts of winter begin making rather uncomfortable, those persons who have been dilatory in filling out their fuel oil applications.

Despite summer heat, OPA District Director A. J. Williams yesterday reminded that, by cold weather, fuel oil for heating may not be as available as it is now, and that transportation facilities cannot be guaranteed after the first frost arrives.

"Every civilian fuel tank must be filled within the next few weeks," Williams stated, "so that the user will not be short when the need for it is urgent. There is little doubt that the civilian fuel oil situation, due to war and transportation demand, will be more critical next winter."

At present, all dealers have a plentiful supply and are not harassed with transportation problems. Therefore, it is imperative that those users file applications with their local ration boards now. With the arrival of cold weather it may be too late.

Every ration holder has a personal responsibility to apply now. They can do a lot to assure that the nation's supply of fuel oil will be amicably distributed. The first period coupons, ten gallons for each unit, became valid on June 1. Some dealers report that users are taking early advantage of the situation. My warning is that they had better avoid later complications and distress."

Small Wrecks Checked Last Night By Cops

Two small wrecks were checked last night by police and in one of them an arrest for reckless driving was made. This wreck took place on Pennsylvania avenue east when an International truck owned by Lewis Wagner, Shippensburg, RD 1 ran into a parked car at 1806 Pennsylvania avenue, east. The

Camp Birdsall Edey News

By TIPPY, Substitute Camp Mascot

The camp seems quiet and the dining room a little bit lonely to-night because the Tent Unit has not been in camp at all today. They stayed up in their own unit and cooked all three meals today. They are all very much interested in learning to cook out of doors.

We saw girls carrying baskets of food and Ruffles and I followed to see if they would come to the Homestead but they were going up the hill to the tent unit. We smelled fish so I asked Mac what they were having to eat. She said that this morning they cooked pancakes and slices of canned meats on their buddy burners. Together with oranges and cocoa, they managed to make a meal that kept them going until lunch.

Blushing bunny on toast, bread twists and jam with milk to drink and celery to nibble made up their luncheon. I really did smell fish—rock bass. Baked potatoes, chef salad, and peas went with the fried bass, followed by peach shortcake with milk to drink, was their dinner.

By the time Mac finished telling us what they were going to eat, we were both ready to move into the tent unit but when we started to go up, we were discouraged by tales of foxes and weasels in the woods. I am puzzled by this attitude, especially since Tux was always clever.

We had a note from Tux. It had a picture of a dog carrying a newspaper in his mouth on the front of it. The dog was not Tux. After all, carrying newspapers may be clever but there are other ways to be clever. Tux never caught a mouse. Ruffles and I are practicing to clean out the rats that are bothering the cook. Ruffles caught a chipmunk yesterday morning. It was half as big as she is. I helped her eat it.

Speaking of cooks, I heard that Mrs. Sperry's family wonder why she is never mentioned in this news. When Ruffles and I came to camp, Mrs. Sperry took one look at us and said "May I have the gray one?" If you were a black and white kitten, how would you feel? I understand that Mrs. Sperry is a very good cook and popular with some people but I shall continue to not mention her. If Ruffles ever writes the news, she may do as she pleases.

Perhaps you wonder as much as I do about the strange words that Mac used when she told about the meals that the Tent Units had to day. "Buddy burners", "blushing bunny", "bread twists" all sound funny to me. Forty told me that bunny burners are heaters made out of old candle ends and a little cardboard for wicks. The candle grease is melted and poured into a small fish can into which pieces of cardboard have been fitted. I don't see how you could cook a meal on it but the tent unit did it.

"Blushing bunny" is a tomato rarebit. "Bread twists" are made by twisting biscuit dough around a stock and cooking it over coals.

The center can be filled with jam or berries. I wonder why they don't say "biscuits-cooked-on-a-stick" instead of "bread twists".

Yesterday, just before dinner, a car drove in and Major ran from the Staff House but Judy and Gordon beat her to greet their father, Major Weldon Lewis, who had just arrived from California.

He is a mighty good looking army man. No wonder they have been watching the road for 2 days.

Amy told me that a group of campers had passed the swimming requirements for canoeing and they will learn their paddle strokes on Friday and Saturday.

The girls are Jacqueline Burgi, Beth Israel, Carolyn Keck, Barbara Lundahl, Diane Ramage, Marilyn Rutledge, Shirley Swanson and Maxine Weld.

Tux says there aren't any bones in Sugar Grove so I am going to ask Rachel to save some for him. Even if he is jealous of us kittens, it won't hurt us to be kind to him. He is always thinking of food, anyway.

I found out today that Happy, Mayelle Myers, is a writer, too.

She has a book of poems for children nearly ready to be published and some of them have been read over the radio. I wish she would put Ruffles and me in a poem. She could do it easily. I saw one when I was an intern in the office. She wrote it here at camp and it is about clouds in the sky on a summer day. It is pretty.

No wonder that Happy likes to lie on her back and look at the sky on a sunny day. When it rains, she and Barbara Lundahl both have to run and move their beds because the roof leaks over them. Mr. Hatch has patched and patched but they still leak.

"Those roofs are gone," said Mr.

Hatch.

ARTICLE DESCRIBES UPPER ALLEGHENY

"Conservationists will have many things to consider when they actually come face to face with concrete plans to inundate this quiet, wild valley of the upper Allegheny," says Dr. William N. Fenton in the current issue of The Living Wilderness.

Dr. Fenton, of the Smithsonian Institution's Bureau of American Ethnology, describes the upper Allegheny in a narrative of a canoe trip made in 1941 "to the down certain Indian place names to sites along the river." With Charles E. and Richard B. Congdon, lawyers of Salamanca who provided two canoes and other equipment and shared interests in local history and natural history, Dr. Fenton and his wife went down the river from Salamanca to the State line—a voyage described in the article's title as "A Day on the Allegheny Ox-Bow."

Referring to the interest in Seneca ethnology and Indian place names, Dr. Fenton says:

"Recalling the names recalls the wilderness and the Indian's wilderness culture. And surely anyone who could have made even this one-day voyage with us might have been aroused to an appreciation of the still existing natural features of this valley, not forgetting the present Indian inhabitants."

Anyone wishing a copy of the article is promised one free by the publishers, The Wilderness Society, 1840 Mintwood Place, Washington 9, D. C.

A HERO LEAVES THE FIELD

The "disability" that prompted Maj-Gen. Clair L. Chennault to resign from the Army nine years ago did not prevent his becoming one of the most colorful figures in modern military history.

Combat aviation grew up to be pretty much of an exact science from the time that General Chennault came to beleaguered China's assistance in 1937 until his return to active duty with the United States Army Air Forces after Pearl Harbor. But the exploits of this former stunt flyer and his brave band of "Flying Tigers" retained a dashing quality of improvisation.

This was from necessity rather than choice. General Chennault had only a handful of planes, a lot of adaptability, and some intrepid pilots with which to confront the superior Jap air force. But confront it he did, and on many occasions confounded it as well. The "Flying Tigers" shared with China some of her most perilous days, and it is much to their credit that China survived them.

Now with Japan beaten in the air over China, as he himself says, General Chennault has again retired. He leaves behind another record of American ingenuity, courage and humanity that is in our finest tradition. And he takes with him into civilian life the thanks and admiration of two nations that he has so ably aided.

MISS MAE M. MORAN

From far and near expressions of sorrow continue to be received over the sudden passing of Miss Mae M. Moran, instructor in Warren schools for 44 years and principal of the South street building for 42 years.

A gracious woman and competent instructor, Miss Moran's untimely passing leaves a vacancy in the school and among her large circle of friends that will long be regretted.

Down through the years, many came to know Miss Moran and to admire her many fine qualities. She was the last of one of Warren's finest families. They took a wholesome interest in life, in the companionships which sincerity of purpose and loyalty engendered.

It is difficult to realize that such a fine friend has slipped away so quickly, but in the hearts of those who knew and loved her there is a feeling of devotion that will hallow her memory. Her interest in her pupils long after they left her classrooms was lasting.

A splendid woman in every phase of a busy life, truly she will be missed.

State Preparing To Start New School Health Program

Harrisburg—(AP)—Pennsylvania will start its new program for complete medical and dental examinations of school children and school employees this fall but it will be handicapped somewhat at first by a shortage of doctors and nurses.

"We are making a survey right now to see what the prospects are," explained Chief John W. German, Jr., of the health department's school division. "We have found Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are pretty well set up to handle parts of the program."

German made the comment in connection with the department's announcement that rules and regulations for the new program have received the approval of the state advisory health board.

They provide:

Arrangement for scheduling physical examinations by medical and dental examiners in cooperation with local school authorities.

Appointment of examiners by school boards in first, second and third class districts with approval of the health secretary.

Selection of physicians and dentists in fourth class districts by the health department with approval of personnel already employed in districts and private schools with satisfactory health programs.

Special examinations for pupils and teachers entering schools after regular tests have been completed.

Maintenance of permanent files for health records and transfer of records when pupils or teachers move to new districts.

Payment of a minimum of $1 to physicians and 50 cents to dentists from the $2.25 per pupil allotted to first, second and third class districts.

The health department explained the law provides for lump sum payments to districts where local authorities retain control of examinations while in fourth class districts physicians will be paid $1.50 and dentists 75 cents for each examination.

The 1945 legislature appropriated $4,000,000 to finance the program in the 1945-47 biennium.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1925

Firemen from Corry, Jamestown, and Warren were summoned when fire broke out in the grocery store of Lynn Gordon, at Columbus, and destroyed most of the little town.

In the windows of the Style shop are some very handsome displays of men's clothing. Harry Christensen, window trimmer, achieves some fine results, and his windows are always neat.

The Warren National Bank was the successful bidder for $115,000 worth of Warren county bonds which were offered to pay for the new concrete Pittsfield-Torpedo road.

The once prosperous town of Brookton will be wiped off the map soon following its purchase by Rosen and Josephson from the Ellis Tanning Company. Wreckers will remove all remains.

In 1935

Warren sweltered under a terrific heat wave, with the temperature at the Pennsylvania Gas Company station registering 90 degrees while others registered 100. This wave marks the hottest weather here in several years.

The local dry goods store of Baker and Johnson will now be known as Johnson's, the firm having changed its name! A. E. Johnson, senior partner, will continue the business as before.

Herman Streich, who for many years was caretaker of the Come-wango Club, will take up his duties in a similar position at the Watson Memorial Home on Come-wango avenue.

Bernard J. Cochran, of Erie, who has been appointed district director for the Works Progress Administration, spent some time here conferring with local officials regarding a branch office here.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Engineers In Italy Honor Lieut. Moran

Mrs. James F. Moran, Jr., 103 Oak street, Shefford, has been advised through friends that a newly constructed bridge about 20 miles southwest of Bologna, across the Setta River in the Apennines, has been dedicated by Company G of the 92nd Engineering Regiment to her husband, Lt. Moran, who was killed in action in Italy in July, 1944.

In a letter from Capt. George B. Hughes, of her husband's company, she has learned that the bridge is the longest this unit has ever constructed and will likely be its last in that theater.

He writes that the span is 200 feet long and 40 feet from the stream bed. It took six weeks to build and the workers were under enemy observation for four of those weeks. Known as an A-frame, it is supposed to be the longest and largest of its kind in that theater.

Lt. Moran, formerly employed by the United Refining Company here, enlisted on July 9, 1941 and went overseas on December 17, 1943. Participating in the Anzio landings, he spent 108 days there before the breakthrough, and was given an audience by Pope Pius in Rome on June 5, 1944, his birthday. His last letter home on July 20 told of being near Pisa. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Moran, Sr.

A special dispatch from headquarters of a base air depot area at Warrington, England, states that the end of the European war finds Sgt. Robert L. Toner still doing a big job. The report continues:

For some men, it has been a war against Germans and Italians, but for the men of the 310th ferrying squadron it has been an unending fight against time and weather, as well. Throughout the war, Sgt. Toner and his squadron had to supply airplanes to all air force units in both the European and Mediterranean theaters from the Air Service Command depots. Regardless of the weather, all combat losses had to be replaced immediately and these men did the job. Now the task is to ready the planes so they can be used against our final enemy, Japan, and these men work on unflinchingly.

Sgt. Toner is the son of Harry

Double Purpose In Grace Choir Party

Mrs. Roy Krebs, 10 Kenmore street, was hostess last evening for a delightful picnic-shower given by Grace Methodist choir women to honor Miss Grayce Jolley, soon to be a bride.

The picnic spot on the Krebs property is a secluded nook surrounded by Japanese larch trees and provided an ideal setting for such an outing. After a delicious meal had been enjoyed, the honored guest was showered with beautiful gifts of a miscellaneous nature from the following present and former members of the choir:

Mrs. Edwin Jack, Mrs. Bernadine Joy, Mrs. Philip Maines, Mrs. Olive Niemann, Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Emil Jacobson, Mrs. Florence Anderson, Mrs. Carl Lindquist, Mrs. Helen Bumber, Mrs. Harry Drivas and the Misses Mildred Dunkle, Jeannine Mathyer, Joanna Eckland, Ruth Karr, Linnea Scott and the hostesses.

Later in the evening, choir men joined the ladies at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul West to honor them with gift of money and to sing for their 50th wedding anniversary. "Sweeter As the Years Go By," "In My Heart," "Blest Be the Tie," "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet" were sung to the delight of the honored couple, staunch friends and appreciative listeners of the choir.

WAC Uniform Is Miss Schumann's Wedding Attire

The vows were taken in a beautiful candlelight ceremony performed June 23 in the C. M. Methodist church of Asheville, N. C., the Rev. Tuttle officiating.

Church decorations were carried out with ferns and lighted candles. The bride and her only attendant, Pvt. Mildred Kirberger, also of Warren, wore light beige off-duty dresses and garden-shoulder corsages. Cpl. Thomas Crandall, of Providence, R. I., was best man for Pfc. Clothier.

Dinner for the bridal party followed at The Manor.

TEA COMPLIMENTS

MRS. J. W. KENNEDY

Corydon, July 20—Miss Alice Duntley was hostess from three until five o'clock Wednesday afternoon for a tea complimenting Mrs. J. W. Kennedy. The Kennedy home was made most attractive with garden flowers, repeated in a prettily appointed table, where Mrs. Paul Duntley was assisted by Mrs. Rubie Day.

Mrs. Kennedy was becomingly gowned in a black and white silk print, with shoulder corsage of pink sweetpeas and fern. Some 25 guests present included Mrs. Mary Hood, of California; Mrs. C. C. Flatt, Kinzua; Mrs. Craig Browne and daughter, Marjorie, Mrs. Ruel Smith, Warren, and Judy Bernard, Buffalo, N. Y.

WANDA HOSKINS IS PARTY GUEST

Mrs. Raymond Smith gave a miscellaneous shower party last evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hoskins to compliment their sister and daughter, Wanda Hoskins, who will be a bride July 26. After an evening of playing cards and games, the bride-elect was presented with a number of lovely gifts for her future home.

A delightful lunch was served to the following: Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. John Fulmer, Mrs. Hazel Homman, Mrs. Florence Baxter, Frances Falber, Mary Rich, Theresa Hoskins, Mrs. Eleanor Smith, Mrs. Leona Woodruff, Mrs. Romaine Williams and Dixie Williams.

More Cadet Nurses

On July 1st of this year the entire nation saluted the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, the women in grey and scarlet, on the occasion of its second anniversary. In two years this organization has become America's largest uniformed group of women, listing on its membership roster names of 112,000 women between the ages of 17 and 35.

The Cadet Nurse Corps is achieving a two-fold purpose, according to Dr. Thomas Parra, surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service. It is alleviating the shortage of nurses today, he states, and is preparing the graduate nurses of tomorrow for their important place in the post-war world. Even the more than 100,000 girls and women who have already enrolled and dedicated themselves to service in nursing is not sufficient, and the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps begins its third year with an additional quota of 60,000 students needed to maintain and continue the corps program.

The U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps was created by act of congress, passed unanimously, in June, 1943, "to provide for the training of nurses for the armed forces, government and civilian hospitals, health agencies and war industries . . . to furnish to students without charge for tuition, fees or other expenses, courses of study and training, uniform, insignia, and maintenance in accordance with the regulations of the surgeon general."

Entrance requirements vary with different schools, but in general include good health and graduation with satisfactory grades from an accredited high school. All races and creeds are needed, and college education is an added advantage.

Application for membership should be made to the school of nursing of your own choice. Lists of schools in each state may be obtained from state nursing councils or from the state board of nurse examiners. A list of accredited schools of nursing may be obtained from the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, Box 88, New York, N. Y., or by addressing Mrs. Katharine Miller, 400 North Third street, Harrisburg, Pa.

Endocreme helps restore that youthful look to face and throat

Would you like the skin of your face, your throat, to grow younger looking again? If so, try ENDOCREME.

ENDOCREME, with its 8-year record of success, is helping thousands to improve the very skin itself, not merely its superficial appearance. For thousands, it is doing this to a degree heretofore thought impossible. The secret of ENDOCREME'S success is ACTIVOL®. This ACTIVOL® is a scientific replacement for woman's own skin-vitalizing substance. Thus, when you apply ENDOCREME, it is absorbed by the skin and helps to restore normal growth of cells and tissues. Program For V. F. W. Concert
At Beatty Field Sunday P. M.

The concert will be played from the platform in Beatty Field starting promptly at 2:30 p. m. Chairs will be provided to enable the audience, or at least that part of it that arrives in time, to listen in comfort, whether they drive or walk to the concert.

The program is announced to be as follows:

1. March "Forward America" Lentini.
2. Overture "Encore", King.

Chicago Attendance Figures Reflect Boom

(From Page Ten) the first 4-5. Butch Nieman's three-run homer in the nightcap tied the score at 5-all in the seventh and he walked to set the stage for the Braves' 6-5 decision in the tenth.

Rip Sewell, apparently back in his old effective form, shut the door on the New York Giants, 4-0. The Pittsburgh ace was effective in the pinches, pitching himself out of two jams for his 11th win.

Thornton Lee was in and out of hot water all day in Boston but the Chicago White Sox veteran lefty survived to hand the Red Sox a 5-3 setback. The 37-year-old southpaw walked seven but left 14 stranded. All other American League contests were postponed because of rain and wet grounds.
